

Dear Allied Healthcare Federal Credit Union Member,

We've experienced unprecedented challenging events in the last few months of this year. While each of our situations are different, we think that it's safe to say that every one of us has been affected by the pandemic and other events of the last three months.

While this year may not be going as planned, we're so thankful for each person who makes up our credit union. Thank you to the healthcare workers who continue to help, to our members for being patient and understanding while our branch hours were temporarily affected, and to our associates and board volunteers for working hard to serve our communities.

We, at Allied Healthcare Federal Credit Union, want you to know that we're here for you however you need us. Whether it's a smile when you walk into the branch, a low-rate loan or refinance, or financial coaching, we are here to serve you.

Thank you for your continued trust!

Monica I. Lopez
President/CEO

IMPORTANT TIPS TO AVOID SCAMS

The Federal Trade Commission recently published the following tips to help the public avoid coronavirus scams:

- Don't respond to texts, emails or calls that claim to be from the government.
- Ignore online offers claiming to provide vaccinations or treatments for COVID-19.
- Be on the lookout for illegal robocalls.
- Don't trust emails that claim to be from the CDC or WHO.
- Do your research before making a donation.
